Answer

All these photographs feature EuroWood™ – like wood, only better. EuroLine offers a variety of elegant EuroWood™ finishes that are virtually maintenance free, practically indistinguishable from wood and more durable. Choose from a wide variety of EuroWood™ wood grain finishes that include Fir, Oak and Mahogany.

Along with EuroWood™ finishes, EuroLine offers a wide range of colorfast acrylic foil laminate finishes shown here.

In-House Product Testing Facility

To maintain the highest standards of product quality, EuroLine operates its own in-house product testing facility. Completed windows are randomly tested for water and air penetration performance levels to confirm the industry-exceeding standards for which the EuroLine name stands.

To ensure EuroLine's colorfast acrylic laminate finishes perform to our rigid standards, the testing facility performs peel, freezer and oven tests on each batch of foiled profiles. The result is a truly exceptional performance level.

EuroWood™ acrylic foil finishes (like wood, only better) have become a popular alternative to EuroLine's traditional white and beige extrusion finishes.

EuroWood™ finishes are virtually indistinguishable from wood and far more durable. For more details, talk to your EuroLine representative.
